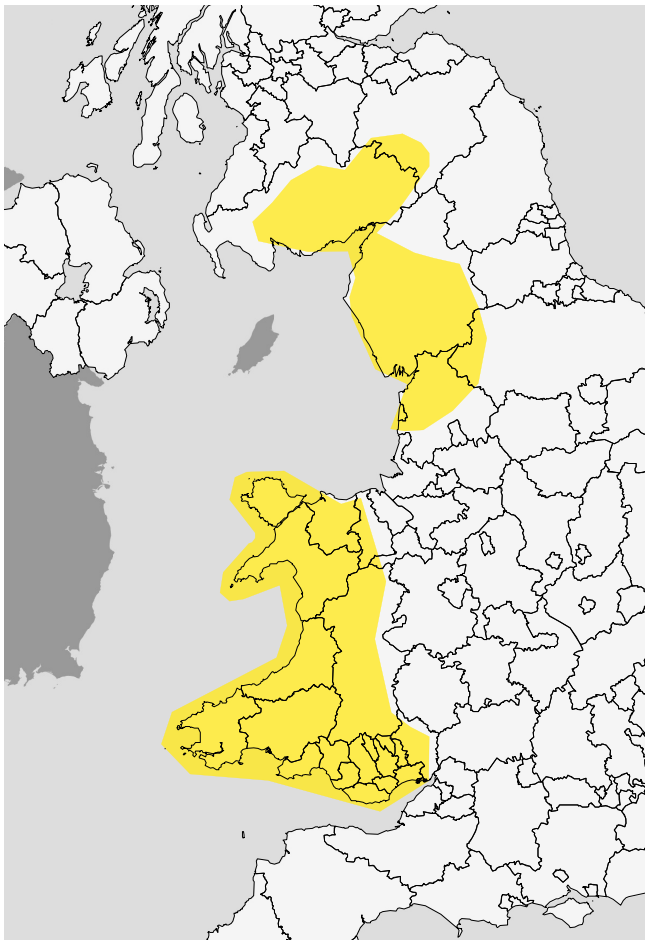
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
06:00 Fri 12 Oct 2018 and
23:59 Fri 12 Oct 2018



A spell of heavy and persistent rain on Friday has the potential to cause flooding.

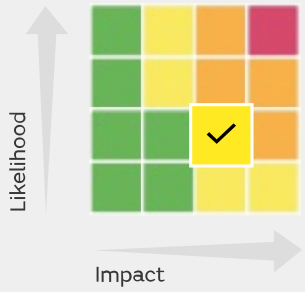
What to expect

- There is a chance that homes and businesses could be flooded, causing damage to some buildings, the greatest likelihood being in parts of Wales
- Spray and flooding is likely to lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures. In Wales, fast-flowing or deep floodwater is possible
- Where flooding occurs, there is a chance of delays or cancellations to train and bus services
- There is a chance of power cuts and loss of other services to some homes and businesses

Further details

A zone of heavy rain will become slow-moving, bringing prolonged and often heavy rainfall. Parts of south and west Wales may well see the greatest amounts but throughout the warning area, high ground exposed to the south and south west could see 50 to 100 mm by the end of the day.

The rain is expected to be accompanied by strong winds, gusting up to 60 mph, which when combined with high tides may lead to some coastal impacts due to large waves.



Low likelihood of medium impacts
